

Zev Howley Short Films

This DVD includes 3 Australian short films directed by Zev Howley.

Only $5 to screen any or all of these shorts to your members, or better still, only $10 if you wish to keep the DVD. These costs include all handling and postal charges.

Sarah's Jihad, Aust, 2009, 19 min.

Through a series of misadventures a teenage girl discovers that not all Muslims are terrorists but can actually be friendly and fun to be with. They might even share some common interests such as jazz ballet.

The film is well made but the message is not new although it is still worth promoting.

Stars 3.6 (Out of 5)

Broken Superman, Aust, 2012, 10 mins.

Vietnam veteran living alone and suffering from post traumatic stress arranges for two strippers to visit him to help him face reality, but the job ends up being harder than they anticipated.

Stars 2.5 (Out of 5)

A Holiday to Remember, Aust, 2011, 13 min

A quiet weekend away for two is interrupted by a strange man who appears to suffer from dementia. Should they turn him away or go out of their way to help him. Brings to the screen the issue of how to deal with dementia affected people.

Stars 2.1 (Out of 5)

Your Image is Our Focus

Federation of Victorian Film Societies.

inc A0028942B

ABN:62 373 979

www.fvfs.org.au

admin@fvfs.org.au

03 9873 1369