8 & 16mm equipment supply.

Very few organisations are seeking 16mm or 35mm equipment these days so it is difficult to find buyers for second hand equipment. Two sources of information are the magazines REAL DEALS and DRESS CIRCLE, (see emails below) both covering information relevant to movie enthusiasts.

Some local museums and historical societies may be interested in donations of good examples of 16mm projection equipment.

16mm Projector Manuals

For all types of 16mm projector manuals and additional information see the ACOFS website. www.acofs.org.au. This website also carries a copy of the 1999 issue of the "projectionist's handbook". While it may be out of date in many respects, there is still much good information to be gained from it.

Digital Projectors

Digital projection equipment is now widely available from many audio/visual equipment outlets and HiFi suppliers.

One Web supplier the FVFS has used is www.justprojectors.com.au. They have a wide range of products for sale and can advise of what would suit your situation. They will also deliver for a modest charge. Ask for a discount for cash and for a not-for-profit organisation.

The Internet

Note that globes, belts, spares and manuals for most projectors (film and digital), can often be sourced through the internet by Googling the projector make and model + "spare parts".

NOTE: The above list is not an endorsement of services or supplies provided by those detailed. We would appreciate hearing from anyone wishing to amend or add to the above list of projectionists, suppliers or services of 16mm, 35mm and digital projection equipment, particularly in Victoria.
